

The charming building is square in shape and composed of crenellated walls strengthened by three towers. In defense of the main stands one of the towers that were accessed by a drawbridge, later replaced by a brick. It stands out between the Adriatic Sea and the Sibillini Mountains, and the green of the countryside.

This majestic castle was built in the XIV Century, given its strategic location and its great architectural layout.

It played a leading role in local historical events until the mid-sixteenth century.

The Castle represents also an exclusive location, which can be customised to fit a multitude of events such as meetings, conferences, congress, presentations, weddings and parties.

The light and airy Auditorium boasts a capacity of 200 seated and it has full audiovisual facilities including wi-fi connection, video projection system, microphones, audio system with surround sound system.
